

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK—TINA COUMBE

ISSUE #31 THURSDAY 17TH OCTOBER 2019

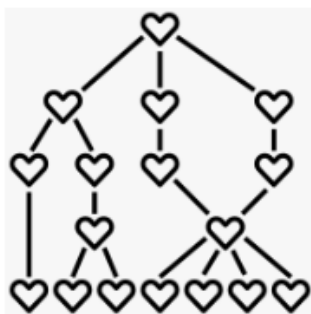

Hi Everyone,

I hope you all got some sleep last night in that amazing storm. My house keep lighting up yet the 8 year old slept through it all! We look forward to seeing you all at our Pay It Forward Festival tomorrow afternoon. Please come and join us for a free ice cream, coffee and a sausage.

We are starting to plan our grades for next year. If you will not be returning next year, please let us know so that we can factor this now.

Have a great weekend.

Pay It → Forward

Crib Point

Tomorrow, October 18th, there will be a 'Pay It Forward' Festival being held at our school with and for the residents of Crib Point. This day is designed to foster community spirit and bring together people in a loving and fun way, as well as encouraging people to pay it forward – passing on whatever good things they have received by doing good things for others. There will be a free BBQ, free Coffee, jumping castle, ice-cream, bike-fixing, games, and much more.

What makes sentences interesting and readable?

Here are their replies

The interesting things about a sentence is exclamation mark, full stops, commas and question marks.

What makes a book interesting is the funny parts and it looks good.

What makes sentences interesting and readable is descriptive language and word types.

It is the nouns that makes sentences interesting.

What makes the book interesting is the adjectives.

Something that makes a book interesting is all the big words.

Punctuation in sentences makes sense because you need a breath.

The sentences are interesting because the punctuation makes it interesting.

We are learning more about sentences by looking at how published authors write, by making our own sentences interesting and by reading lots of books.

Issue #7 of Scholastic Book club was sent home on Tuesday. If you would like to place an order from this issue please have your order form and payment returned to the office no later than Friday 25th of October.
